

Johnathan

- Aux. capo stands can make things confusing when they're not on board with the main stand.
- Atmosphere is good.
- Security has an been an issue.
- Education – Fans don't know what you're getting into.

Charlie

- Last year vs. this year has been a huge change. Everything seems to be moving smoother. The aux. stands help and having the drums together is a huge help. Things sounded really good on the TV.
- Need improve first timer's knowledge

Maggie

- Things have gone well.
- Aux. stands have been helpful
- The wrist bands were helpful for chants
 - o The first match we fell into a few of the same chants
- Secondary stands were a bit too high.
- The corner sections 125 is lacking.

Bob

- TNE and DC are working together so much better this year
- Move stands down to make sure everyone can hear

Yannick

- Amazed at how loud we can be. Even compared to some of the larger clubs.
- Everyone is so evolved, which is so refreshing to see. Even last year when we were at the bottom of the standings, we kept the energy.
- Last year in Portland, we did some pogoing (lets go Minnesota) I wish we did that more.

Mike (DC - drummer)

- The Aux. stands are a great addition! Everyone seems to be on the same page and its been so helpful.
- Starting on the same beat is the most important thing!
- More variety of chants! The first match we fell into the same thing.

Jamie

- Aux stands have been great! Also, really like having drums closer together.
- Multiple chants going on in a single section is an issue.
 - o Ppl in the back of the section don't know what's going on.
 - o MCU seems to start their own chants that they start without communicating to others around them.
 - o Just need to keep improving communication, in all areas/groups.

Bill

- Have tickets in supporter's section and in 138 and switch back and forth during the match. I love the body language when one supporter section is doing a chant that the other doesn't like. This year, it's noticeably better! Not only when you're in the section, but anywhere in the stadium.
- I think a chant sheet with a few key chants that we could pass out to the people in the section and maybe other sections as well would be great.

Kate

- Did a lot more chants than we did the first few matches.
- Frustration from people starting songs when things were happening on the fields and not being able to make that happen. People want to sing player specific songs started based on the play on the field and it's hard to get those going in a timely manner.
 - o If something happens, how can we pivot quicker and get that player specific chant started.
- Inappropriate chants are still happening

Meg

- I like the idea of passing out chant sheets, but am concerned about the trash it creates
- Timing of chants – the drums were hard to hear last match (maybe because of the cold?) When that happens, the chants really fall apart
 - o Need to make sure we start each chant at a good pace!
 - o Like the move, like the additional chants

Mike

- Love that the sound is getting stronger and more unified this year. I'll sing any of the chants, I just want a unified chant.
- I came from SKC and seeing how that stadium/supporters grew and how the energy grew to encompass the whole stadium makes me really excited for what we can/will become.
- Observational chants need to improve! How can we make sure the capos are aware of what's going on the field and able to quickly start/pivot/pick up a player specific chant based on that.
- I love that TNE picks up their stuff. Would love for more DC do the same!

Alex

- Unified section is great!
- Need improved communication between the aux. stands and the main stands.

Andy

- I echo everything else we've heard pervious.
- Love the unity we've seen this year. Love the open communication and regular meetings. Just want to see the section as loud as possible
- Would love to see more situation chants started.
 - o Flag waver on the stand can also act as someone who is there to communicate what happens on the field.
- Would like to see more TNE female Capos

Nate

- Don't have a whole lot that hasn't been said just yet. Love the unity, love the atmosphere. I bring a ton of flags!
- Concerned about the waste of paper.
 - o Could we promote the chants in a digital medium? That would help reduce the waste.
 - o We had friends who were willing to be on their phones.
 - o Basically, we need both!

Megan

- Agree with everything that's been said and love how far we've come. Love having the sections together. I really enjoy not having to be as specific about whether I'm a DC, TNE, etc.
- I felt like last week Drew T and I were able to work so much better at the merch. stand.
- Think there are some who feel a little odd when they find themselves in a section that's not what they're used to. Both TNE and DC can/should work to improve communication and support of each other's social accounts so we can be sure to get the word out!

Aaron

- Communication between the two group has been great!
- Still some work to do, but that's to be expected.
- *drops mic.

Neil

- We have some pregame storage. This can probably expand as much as we need it to.
- Great to see the growth!

Max

- Love the unity! Was nervous at the beginning of the year, but things have gone really well so far.
- Love the flags, but having the people in the opposite sections not be able to see is an issue. So I'm encouraged to hear/see that we're working to solve those issues when they arrive.

Sam

- Super excited that the aux. stands happened. I was on the DC aux stand both games and absolutely love it! It made energy better and drove engagement.
- I do think the placement was better the first match vs. the last match.
- Communication could be better! Between the stands, in general, etc.
- Something seems to be missing between the chants and the crowd. Could just be a growing pain.

General

- There might be wrist bands coming to the section. If we cannot keep people out, we'll need to do so.
- Away supporters are going to be kept out of the supporter section. This includes the ADA section.
